

BESPOKEN BENCH in pine wood and painted MDF

Available in different size on request

These are a couple of large bespoke benches (1.46m x 0.35m x h0.46m) made in prime plywood (18mm) and 44mmx44mm pine rods. The rods have been treated with natural oil. The seats have been painted with a layer of prime and two layers of black paint.

The design of these benches was preceded by a meeting to carefully define the client's needs. The design lines are simple and catchy.

The treatment of the wood, using natural oil, aims to enhance and valorize the natural texture of the wood. We are really proud we can tell that all the project has been made in house..

The bookcase is made of a combination of frames, all in Dutch Elm wood (30mm), and shelves in Solid Oak (18mm). Some of the shelves are slid into custom-made grooves and then glued to improve the overall strength of the frame. Other shelves are secured with removable hooks that allow for further customization of the layout.

We are really proud we can tell that all the project has been made in house..
